

BRASS

Adjudicator: Paul Denegri HonARAM FTCL LTCL

PAUL DENEGRI was a Junior Exhibitioner at the Royal College of Music, studying trumpet with Colin Cleague (English National Opera). He was awarded Il Suono di Ottone Prize for Performance twice in successive years and the Student Union Chamber Prize. He has performed with many orchestras, including the BBC Symphony Orchestra and was a member of the London Festival Orchestra for six years, with whom he appeared as a soloist and also on many recordings. He was also a member of The John Wilbraham Brass Soloists.

In 2008 Paul was awarded an Honorary Associate of The Royal Academy of Music for services to, and achievement in the music profession.

In 1986 Paul was appointed Head of Brass at Wells Cathedral Specialist Music School where he remains to this day and in 2017 was appointed Head of Student Performance while remaining as head of department for brass. Outside of Wells he works regularly with the country's leading youth ensembles including The National Youth Wind Orchestra, The National Children's Orchestra and The National Youth Wind Ensemble. His conducting engagements have taken him as far afield as South Africa, USA, Malaysia and Greece. In 1995 Paul was invited to be the inaugural Head of Brass for The Gloucester Academy of Performing Arts. He was invited by Paul Archibald to coach on the prestigious English Brass Academy courses.

Paul is a published composer and his compositions have been performed by the The Munich Opera Brass and Ensemble de Cuivres l'Île de Paris. Naman was recorded and released by the Harper Ensemble. Paul has written four full-length rock musicals. Everything and Nothing was premiered at the Edinburgh Festival in 2011. A new musical commission, Coffee with Guv recently received critical acclaim and four star ratings from independent critics at The Edinburgh Festival. Keen to give back to the state sector Paul is an LEA Governor for Huish Primary School in Yeovil, with key responsibilities for music. Paul still maintains a very busy freelance musical career including playing, adjudicating, writing and arranging, conducting and coaching.
